

ATLÂNTICO

The figure consists of seven maps of Brazil, arranged in a 3x2 grid (with the last cell empty), showing the evolution of state boundaries from 1940 to 1980. The maps are titled as follows:

- Top Left: REPÚBLICA DOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DO BRASIL 1940
- Top Right: REPÚBLICA DOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DO BRASIL 1945
- Middle Left: REPÚBLICA DOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DO BRASIL 1950
- Middle Right: REPÚBLICA DOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DO BRASIL 1955
- Bottom Left: REPÚBLICA FEDERATIVA DO BRASIL 1970
- Bottom Right: REPÚBLICA FEDERATIVA DO BRASIL 1980

Each map shows the progression of state divisions. Key changes include the creation of new states like Acre, Amapá, and Roraima, and the reorganization of existing states. The maps also show major geographical features like the Amazon River and surrounding countries.

Map of the Ilhas Oceânicas (Oceanic Islands) of Brazil, showing the Atol das Rocas, Arquipélago de Fernando de Noronha, Ilha da Trindade, Ilhas Martin Vaz, and Ilhas de São Pedro e São Paulo. The map includes a scale bar (0 to 5 km), a compass rose, and a coordinate grid. The islands are labeled with their names and coordinates. The map also shows the surrounding waters, including the Oceano Atlântico and the Canal de São Paulo.
